Rumors By Neil Simon

The tenth anniversary party for New York's deputy mayor is suddenly interrupted by the host's poorly attempted suicide, a missing wife, and his lawyer's botched cover-up. Guests arrive and in the ensuing confusion it becomes more and more difficult to remember who has been told what about whom. Doors slam and hilarity abounds in this unique farce from America's premier comic playwright.

Little Me

Music by Cy Coleman, Lyrics by Carolyn Leigh,
Book by Neil Simon

Probably the best musical comedy you've never heard of, Little Me is a whopping, whirling satire on the familiar "as told to" show biz biography. In this case, the Hollywood back-story is that of Belle Poitrine (French for "beautiful bosoms") a buxom blonde bimbo and queen of the silver screen. Follow her epic romances and rise to ascendance over the bodies of husbands, lovers and acquaintances who meet untimely deaths in her vicinity.

Crazy for You

Music by George Gershwin, Lyrics by Ira Gershwin, Book by Ken Ludwig

Crazy For You is melodic proof that love conquers all. Based on the classic Gershwin musical, Girl Crazy, this new show updates the setting and adds even more Gershwin tunes to Ken Ludwig's artfully constructed tale of boy meets girl in the Wild West. Crazy For You is filled with memorable song and dance numbers, including I Got Rhythm, Embraceable You, Someone to Watch Over Me, Nice Work If You Can Get It, and Stairway to Paradise.

Early One Evening at the Rainbow Bar & Grill

By Bruce Graham

In a tiny, forgotten bar just off the exit ramp in rural Pennsylvania, six ordinary folks face themselves, each other, and the terrifying discovery that an unknown something is destroying much of the U.S. Their choices of how to spend what they believe may be their last hours range from the preposterous to the sublime. A visit from a mysterious stranger with a very strange book deal help decide the fate of humanity in this wonderfully hilarious, off-beat comedy.

The Sisters Rosenzweig by Wendy Wasserstein

Nominated for five Tony Awards, this endearing and intelligent play takes a captivating look at three brilliant, eccentric Jewish sisters as they gather in London to celebrate the 54th birthday of the eldest at her posh flat. During the course of 48 hours, the outer layers of each sister's personality are peeled away, revealing their neuroses, forcing them to face their fears, and causing them to make serious tweaks in their search for love, self-definition, and fulfillment.
